Young Authors & Illustrators

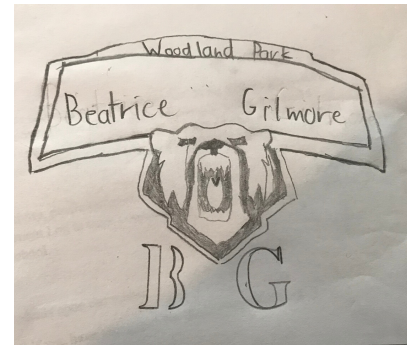

Ms. Tonti's first grade class at Charles Olbon School have become authors and illustrators. The students worked very hard on this writing project. After they finished listening to a story, the students then created a "how to catch the Easter bunny" piece with detailed pictures with labels. The writing model included an introduction with a hook (at least three sentences), the body (which will include exact steps on how to build a trap), and a closing (at least three sentences).

Special Messages

The staff of Beatrice Gilmore School posted a special spring break message video to the students on the school's home page. Thank you Ms. Moore, Mrs. Farraye, Ms. Roehrich and Mrs. Meeker for putting this together.
